Born from a love for design, collaboration and hospitality, our space was built on the belief that creativity thrives in warmth. Once an abandoned shell, it's now a curated home for photographers, designers, and creators. A place to create, connect, and belong.

SOURCE

Our 120m² daylight studio is an open, inviting space defined by 4.5-meter floor-to-ceiling windows facing northeast, filling the room with soft, even light and the occasional sunbeam. Fully furnished with curated vintage design pieces, it blends industrial architecture with a sense of home.

Concrete walls in varying textures, chalk-painted surfaces, neutral cast floor and two structural pillars form a high-end balanced backdrop for photography and creative gatherings. A private changing room with toilet, elaborate kitchen and a flexible curtain wall complete the setting. Feel free to ask us for a site-visit.

Our kitchen combines a slick RVS setup with a warm wooden wall, designed for both shooting and hosting. It includes a fridge with (oat) milk and sparkling water, a Nespresso machine with milk frother, and selected tableware. The moveable RVS-and-wood bar adapts easily for MUAH, catering, or gatherings.

Kitchen

We're happy to take care of lunch. On request, you'll find fresh croissants in the morning and a selection of sourdough bread, fresh toppings, fruit, and salad or yogurt ready when you are. We collaborate with local partners for more specific catering.
